

Craig Smith

“Old Media
is dying:
Long Live
New Media!”

Craig Smith is a lawyer,
reporter and blogger,
based in Santa Barbara.

His fact-based observations on the SB News-Press firings and legal proceedings on <http://craigsmithsblog.com> became very popular, even forming a significant timeline of events for the documentary film Citizen McCaw, which was shown in local movie-theatres.

As a lawyer, Craig has been Deputy District Attorney for Santa Barbara County; Judicial Research Attorney, and Juvenile Court Judge in Santa Barbara Superior Court; and in private practice of law.

As a teacher, he is Adjunct Professor of Law at Santa Barbara/Ventura Colleges of Law, and Program Director of Paralegal Studies at UCSB Extension.

Come early for socializing from 2:30pm. Craig Smith's presentation will start at 3pm. His talk will be followed by Q+A, everyone is welcome, and the venue is wheelchair-accessible.

Saturday, September 19th, 2009, in the Patio Room at Vista del Monte, 3775 Modoc Road, (Las Positas exit off 101, midway between UCSB and SBCC), in Santa Barbara.

Hosted by the Humanist Society of Santa Barbara, $2 student or $5 general donations would be appreciated. Information phone 805-259-6432 or website <http://www.sbhumanists.org>
