

...Daring Blasphemer! ...American Infidel! ...The Great Agnostic!

Robert Green Ingersoll (1833-1899) was one of the greatest of American orators and social activists. His many lectures, delivered to thousands of rapt listeners all over the country, are as relevant today as they were 150 years ago. The Humanist Society of Santa Barbara (HSSB) is sponsoring “An Ingersoll Lecture” to bring Ingersoll’s ideas to our community, in his own words.

You can deliver the Ingersoll Lecture!

WHAT:

A Robert Ingersoll lecture, selected by HSSB and open for attendance to the public at no cost, will be delivered by two members of our community— one student and one non-student— selected by audition.

WHO:

Any person, male or female, at least 18 years of age, may participate.

WHEN:

October 16, 2010

WHERE:

Faulkner Gallery, Santa Barbara Public Library

AUDITIONS:

Approximately one month before the Lecture the winner and an alternate in each category will be chosen by a panel of qualified judges. Cash prizes will be awarded to those selected.
